Options for Every LP Professional

The ILPA Institute offers a wide variety of course types and delivery formats to suit the needs and preferences of our participants. Courses are designed to provide both broad and general exposure to a topic as well as the opportunity for a deep and intense focus on more technical subjects.

Course Types Offered

INTRODUCTORY ●

Courses that establish, refresh or reinforce key terms and concepts foundational to private markets investing. Especially helpful to those participants who may be new to (or in the process of deepening their understanding) of a topic. Participants leave class with the fluency they need to work more effectively within their LP organizations.

COMPREHENSIVE ●

Courses that provide a thorough examination of the context, issues and challenges most essential to the class topic. Participants benefit from the format of materials and structure of exercises, ensuring time is exclusively focused on critical skills and conversations. Participants leave with a complete understanding of the course subject and the ability to immediately apply their knowledge and skills to their respective roles.

INTENSIVE ●

Courses that offer a deep dive into a particular topic or aspect of private markets investing. Narrower in scope, intensive courses cover topics in significant detail, allowing for mastery of the subject. Participants leave with both new subject matter specific skills and the ability to incorporate those skills into their organization to improve outcomes.

ADVANCED PRACTICE ●

Courses that combine private markets investment challenges with more general and executive skills such as communication, negotiation, staff management, etc. Courses are centered around difficult situations that LPs encounter which require more than subject matter expertise to resolve. Participants will leave having practiced skills against challenging scenarios they will face in their daily work.
